

PROTEST AGAINST ATROCITIES

People take part in a protest against the alleged atrocities on religious minorities in Bangladesh in Thane on Thursday.

Over 30 students affected after exposure to fumes

Mumbai: More than 30 school students were affected after exposure to fumes from a storage tank at JSW Energy's thermal power plant in Ratnagiri district on Thursday, police said. However, in a statement, JSW Energy said its thermal plant at Ratnagiri does not have any gas storage facility and is not involved in the incident as reported in the media. The students are from Jaigad Vidya Mandir school, which is near the plant, the police said. Of the 250 students in the school, over 30 complained of eye irritation after exposure to fumes coming from the cleaning process of the tank, the police said.

Not allowing mother to meet child is harassment, says HC

MUMBAI The Bombay High Court has held that not letting a child meet her mother amounts to 'cruelty' under Indian Penal Code, and refused to quash a FIR registered against the in-laws of a Jalna-based woman. A bench of Justices Vibha Kankarwadi and Rohit Joshi at Aurangabad noted in its order of December 11 that the woman's daughter, only four years old, is being kept away from her despite a lower court's order. "Keeping a young child of four years away from her mother also amounts to mental harassment, amounting to cruelty in as much as it would certainly cause grave injury to the mental health of the mother," the HC said. Such behaviour by in-laws amounts to 'cruelty' as defined under section 498-A of the IPC, the court added. "The mental harassment is continuing from day to day till date. It is a continuing wrong," the bench observed. It would not quash the FIR as this was not a fit case for the court to interfere, it added. The woman's father-in-law, mother-in-law and sister-in-law had sought quashing of the 2022 FIR registered against them in Jalna district for alleged cruelty, harassment and criminal intimidation. As per the complainant, she got married in 2019 and had a daughter in 2020. But the husband and his family members started demanding money from her parents and abused her physically and verbally, she claimed. In May 2022, the woman was allegedly thrown out of the matrimonial house and not allowed to take her daughter with her. She then filed an application before a magistrate's court seeking her daughter's custody. In 2023, the court ordered the husband to hand over custody of the child to the mother, but the order was not complied with and the child continues to remain with the husband, the woman stated in the high court. The bench noted that although the child was with the husband, the applicants (in-laws) were assisting him by keeping his whereabouts secret. Those who do not have respect for judicial orders are not entitled to relief, the high court remarked. The trio in their petition denied the allegations of cruelty and harassment, and claimed to have been implicated in a false case.

Nanded joins statewide fake drug crisis

Local authority seizes nearly 1.5L counterfeit antibiotic tabs LOKMAT NEWS NETWORK NANDED In a development that underscores the scale of fake drug circulation, the Nanded authorities seized a stock of approximately 1.5 lakh counterfeit antibiotic tablets on Thursday, according to the district surgeon Dr Nilkanth Bho-sikar. The fake medicine stock has been sent to the Food and Drug Administration (FDA) for analysis.

The operation comes amidst reports of similar counterfeit medicines surfacing in Beed, Ambejogai, Wardha, Bhiwandi, and Pune, raising concerns about public health and safety across the state. Growing threat The crime first surfaced in Ambejogai when Vishal Enterprises, a private contractor supplying medicines to government hospitals, was found to have distributed fake Azithromycin 500 tablets. An investigation revealed that the tablets lacked the active ingredient azithromycin, rendering them ineffective. The report confirming the tablets' counterfeit nature came a year and a half after their distribution, by which time the stock had already been used in the hospital. The Ambejogai incident triggered a wave of investigations, uncovering similar cases of fake medicines in Wardha, as well as in Bhiwandi and Pune. Now, Nanded has joined the list of affected districts, highlighting a pervasive issue across the state. Broader implications The repeated discoveries of fake medicines suggest the involvement of an interstate gang responsible for manufacturing and distributing counterfeit drugs. The racket's reach and sophistication have caused alarm, particularly as the fake medicines have penetrated essential healthcare facilities, including district hospitals, sub-district hospitals, and rural primary health centres. The extent of contamination and guiding subsequent actions. Public health experts have called for stricter oversight of medicine supply chains and more stringent quality checks to prevent such incidents. With the spotlight now firmly on the issue, the government faces mounting pressure to act decisively against the counterfeit medicine network threatening lives across the state.
